LENGTHY SESSION OF MARION COUN-TY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Proposition of Dr. J. Ewing Mears Doesn't Meet with the Hearty

Approval of All.

The members of the Marion County Medical Society divided into two factions at the special meeting last night when the question of accepting the proposition of Dr. J. heavy fire losses in various parts of the Ewing Mears, of Philadelphia, to establish | country." a memorial to his father, came up for discussion. The faction which was against a terday by Insurance Commissioner Cyrus hasty acceptance of the proposition carried | F. Neal, of the state auditor's office. "The its point after a long discussion and a post- fire insurance companies were pretty hard ponement of the matter was taken until hit by the Jacksonville conflagration, for next Tuesday evening.

Ewing Mears, of Philadelphia, regarding the memorial which Dr. Mears desired to erect to his pretty strong to secure a license to write father, Dr. George W. Mears, formerly of Indianapolis.

Dr. J. Ewing Mears notified the committee | they were able to stand them. that he desired to give to the Marion County Medical Society, under certain conditions, the property at 30 and 32 West Vermont street, which is a part of the Mears estate, and has a frontage of sixty feet and a depth of 200 feet, being valued at about $25,000. Dr. Mears desires to establish and endow on this property, says the committee, "a medical library, to found a home for the medical society that shall be equipped with all that goes to elevate the standard of medicine and the pro-fession. His ideal in the consideration of this project has been the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, which combines a in effect all that contributes to the advancement of medical science. This caused further discussion, in which members of the two factions spoke without reserve. One of the doctors, who is only kewarm about accepting the proposition, laimed that in accepting Dr. Mears's offer the society would be no better off than it is at present. He said it would mean the removal of the medical library from the city library, where it is preserved in a fire-proof structure, to a brick residence where there would be danger. He also said that while the committee estimated the cost of remodeling the house on Vermont street for society purposes at about $1,000, he believed it would cost fully $5,000 to make the structure suitable for society purposes. This, he said, with the additional expense of a librarian and extra cost of maintaining the new home, would necessitate an increase in the dues, and that would drive out of the society many members who now belong, and would also prevent young physicians | be large. from becoming members of the society. He also objected to the proposition because Dr. Mears will not allow the society to mortgage the property at any time. Dr. John H. Oliver also spoke against the acceptance of the offer at present. He said the society left the courthouse and took rooms in the Willoughby building, and is not as well off now as it was formerly. He said that instead of bettering conditions the society would be deterioristing, and that it would be unwise to move the library away from a fire-proof structure. DR. T. B. NOBLE REPLIES.

Dr. T. B. Noble, who is a member of the special committee, said the society was ad-Dr. Mears, as it meant a permanent home. To this Dr. Oliver again replied that it was not the purpose of the society to deal in brick houses and other real estate, and it should fully weigh all questions before entering into any such proposition.

It was remarked that the society could gain full control of the double house and rent one side of it to medical students, and another proposition came up that the city library may establish a branch library at the society home, which would release the | meeting, and as the bar iron scale is to be society from care of the books and the pay of a librarian. Heydon singled over second base, advancing Kelly to third, but both were left, as Wilhelm steadied down and Flynn and Hickey went out on grounders to the infield. The game was fast and well played by both teams. The special features were the batting of News, who drove in four runs, Carey's long triple between Bey and Shannon, the sharp fielding of Griffin and a one-handed catch by Kelly, which saved Hickey an error.
